An old Hoodoo remedy. Take a regular deck of cards, used is fine, and pull out the Joker and the Two of Diamonds. Take a sharp knife and cut a bitch, I mean, ahem, cut the Two of Diamonds in the center from Diamond to Diamond just enough to fit the Joker card through the short side. Barely insert the Joker card through the back of the Two of Diamonds, just the white top of the card showing through for now.

Now say the following: "Listen up motherbitches, ain't nobody up in here afraid of you tryna threaten me and mine. Time's up on all you weak bitches hiding cause now shit's about to get real and revealed. I'm exposin' this mess right quick. All your secrets are gone be known by e'rybody, and you can't keep it to yourself no more."

This is how I say it, but feel free to do you and change it up a bit to make it your own.

On the last word you say, push that joker card (bitch) through the slit about halfway to reveal the character on the card. Lay it flat in that position, and place it inside a book of power- that might be your magickal journal, a favorite kickass book, a cursing book, a bible, or a grimoire. Close the book and take the next three days to watch for signs.

Once your enemy has become known, open the book and take out the cards. Take a sharpie, paint pen, blood or homemade ink and name that bitch. Write their name or names on the card above the words 'the Joker'. Now pull the Joker card out. Discard the Two of Diamonds or keep to reuse. Draw Xs on the Joker card while saying 'Bitches going DOWN!' or otherwise announcing their imminent defeat.

Fold the Joker away from you, then staple that hot mess on all three sides. Write on the outside of the card 'You are bound the fuck up!' on both sides. Place the card under a ritual candle and dress the candle with oil and herbs of your choosing, such as Stop Gossip, Reversing or Hot Foot. Burn that bitch down to complete the working. Stay close and supervise, bitches sometimes like causing a ruckus on they way out.
